

To whom it may concern

Present

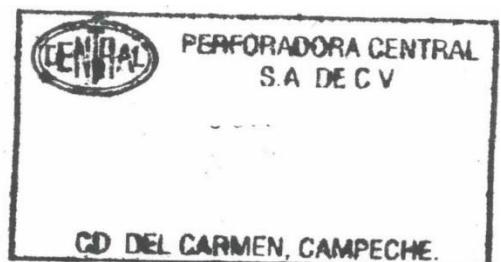

Our experience with Altamarina is totally satisfactory.

In every moment they care to identify our needs, adapt to them and our times the maximum as possible.

The most than we value of their services is the personal attention than they offer, something than distinguished over others agencies in shipping sector.

Altamarina cares about their clients, and they transmit it in every new request that we have required.

Atentamente

Ing. M.N. Erick R. López Garrido
Superintendente de operaciones,
División marina barcos